

Mark Coleman has been a Consultant Surgeon at University Hospitals Plymouth NHS Trust, Plymouth, UK since 2001 and specializes in laparoscopic surgery for colorectal cancer.

He was the National Lead Clinician of the Lapco National Training Programme in laparoscopic colorectal surgery from 2008-2014.

He lectures extensively, nationally and internationally, on training for laparoscopic surgery. He has an extensive list of publications in books and peer-reviewed journals on surgical training and education.

He is Chairman of the charity Bowel Cancer West. Specialties: Colorectal surgery, Colonoscopy, Hernia Surgery, Splenectomy.

Twitter: @lapcoleadmark